

Cases And Materials On International Law 5th Edition

In less than 100 years, international organizations have evolved from curiosities into keystones of international law. What began long ago as an unremarkable effort to coordinate a limited number of technical issues has grown into a global, multilevel, blended governing project with diverse competences in most fields of human endeavor and interests. Law graduates who enter the field of international law, as well as political science, international relations, and diplomacy, are increasingly expected to have a strong knowledge of the law of international organizations. Beyond knowledge, graduates are also expected to be able to solve new emerging legal problems confronting organizations. This book introduces students to the law of international organizations through the careful study of the most recent cases and other materials from the International Court of Justice, United Nations Security Council and General Assembly, World Trade Organization, international criminal tribunals, European Union, European Court of Human Rights, International Labour Organization, various domestic courts and arbitral panels, and other bodies. In doing so, it undertakes a critical examination of legal rights and duties, exposing the fundamental questions that arise when addressing a range of issues within an organization. In order to provide the best foundation, the textbook focuses on several key topics: the law of treaties, creation of organizations, membership, powers of organizations, legal effects of their acts, organs, immunities, and responsibility. This book is best suited for students who are studying international organizations and who have already had one or more courses on international and/or European law.

Texts and Materials on International Human Rights offers a carefully tailored overview of the subject that covers sources and theories, institutions and structures, and substantive rights. The fourth edition is fully updated to include all key developments in the law, in particular issues around reform in the UN and the topical application of human rights around the world. This collection of materials offers a comprehensive overview of the institutional structures relevant to international human rights law, crucial to the understanding of how law works in this challenging area. Designed to guide students through the fundamental texts for this subject, the author's commentary contextualises each extract to explain its relevance, while highlighted further reading makes links to cutting edge academic commentary to provide next steps for student research. Offering a clear text design that distinguishes between materials and author commentary, and including reflective questions throughout to aid understanding, this book is ideal for students seeking to engage with the key issues in the study of International Human Rights.

Cases and Materials on International Law and Social Change

Cases and Materials [on] the International Legal System

Cases and Materials on the Law of International Trade

Texts and Materials on International Human Rights

Rev. ed. update: Cases and materials on international law / Robert McCorquodale, Martin Dixon.

This text draws together in one volume a selection of cases, materials and background information on public international law, supplemented by expert commentary and analysis.

Cases and Materials on the Law of the Sea, Second Edition

Cases and Materials on the International Legal System

Cases and Materials on International Organization

Hauptbd.

International law is a rapidly growing area and Australian cases are mounting. In view of world events over the last few years, it is timely for a case book to highlight that Australia is part of an international community and is subject to international law. Can be used as a supplement to Harris' volume on this subject.

This reference book encompasses a wide selection of cases, materials and background information on public international law, together with informed commentary. This edition contains full consideration of the impact of events in the former Yugoslavia, the role of the United Nations in peace keeping, and on the use of force. It also contains a rewritten chapter on the Law of the Sea, to reflect changes arising from the 1994 Convention on the Law of the Sea.

Cases and Materials on International and Comparative Environmental Law

International Economic Law

Cases & Materials on Public International Law

Cases and Materials on International Trade Arbitration

Documentary Supplement to the International Legal System contains most of the multilateral conventions and United Nations declarations, resolutions, etc. that comprise the modern body of "international legislation" in the general fields of public international law, including international criminal law, and international organizations. The collection could be used as an adjunct to any course or seminar in those fields even if not used in conjunction with the basic casebook.

This second edition of Cases and Materials on the Law of the Sea compiles cases, treaties, U.N. documents, commentaries, and other teaching materials that systematically present law of the sea topics.

International Law

Harris - Cases and Materials on International Law

Recent Cases and Materials on International Law

Cases and Materials on the Law of International Organizations

Reconciling all fields of international economic law (IEL) and creating bridges between disciplines in a conceptual as well as practical manner, this book stands out as the first modern, comprehensive international economic law textbook. Containing a technically solid yet critically rich body of knowledge that spans disciplines from trade law to investment, from trade finance to fisheries subsidies, from development to the digital economy and other new-age topics, the book offers the widest possible coverage of issues in current international economic law. Positioning IEL as a truly global practice, the comprehensive coverage includes various treaty texts, landmark cases and new materials, and is supplemented by case studies, real-life examples, exercises and illustrations. The case extracts and legal texts are selectively chosen, with careful editing and serious deliberation to engage modern law students. Mini chapters show examples of interdisciplinary interactions and provide a window into the future disciplines of international economic law.

Prepared primarily to their use in the introductory course in International Law taught in the University of Michigan Law School.

Cases and Materials on International Trade Arbitration. --

Cases and Materials on International Business and Economic Regulations

An Australian Companion to Harris

Cases and Materials on Private International Law

This book is a companion to the seventh edition of the internationally acclaimed HARRIS' CASES AND MATERIALS ON INTERNATIONAL LAW. Offering carefully selected materials and expert commentary, AN AUSTRALIAN COMPANION TO HARRIS' CASES MATERIALS ON INTERNATIONAL LAW is designed to provide readers with a comprehensive treatment of International law from an Australian perspective. Updated to reflect recent developments in the law, the second edition significantly expands on the coverage of the first edition and includes two additional, entirely new, chapters: International Criminal Law and International Environmental Law. The content and scope of this companion make it an ideal text for generalist International Law courses in Australia.

Introduces students to all relevant international materials together with materials most relevant to Australian international lawyers. Provides a sustained focus on Australia and includes Australian case law and Australian perspectives on international legal affairs. Authors at Australian National University, ACT.

Cases and Materials

International Law I, Public Law 243-244

Cases and Materials on International Law

Supplementary Cases and Materials on International Law

*Since the Amsterdam Treaty of 1997 empowered the EC to adopt rules in the field of conflicts of laws, legal instruments have been adopted that provide common rules on issues that touch upon the day-to-day life of European citizens. There are now instruments covering jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters, family matters and maintenance obligations, and the law applicable to contractual and non-contractual obligations, legal separations and divorces. There is also legislation establishing swift procedures for recovering claims abroad, ie the European Enforcement Order, the European Order for Payment Procedure and the European Small Claims Procedure, and legislation regulating cross-border insolvency proceedings and judicial assistance in the field of service of documents, taking of evidence and access to justice. This long list of EU legislation is not exhaustive of EU conflicts of laws rules: numerous further provisions are scattered among other EU legislation, eg directives on consumer, labour and insurance contracts; company law; IP rights; securities; privacy; and so on. Besides this the European Court of Justice has issued many judgments addressing relevant aspects of the conflict of laws found in the acquis communautaire in this field. This book, which assembles all the relevant EU legislation and ECJ decisions in one place, provides a guide to the maze of legal instruments now in place, supplemented by brief commentaries identifying the leading principles and anticipating future developments.*

Cases & Materials on International Law is a topical and engaging companion for study, offering broad coverage on public international law and placing disputes directly within the context of contemporary debate. The book contains the essential cases and materials that students need in order to fully understand and analyse the international legal system, drawing on a truly global range of jurisdictions and sources. Expert author commentary and notes place selected extracts within the wider legal framework and explain the complexities of the principles of law to students.

The sixth edition includes expanded discussion of developing areas, including UN resolutions on climate change and international environmental law, new material from the International Law Commission, and coverage of major events, such as the annexation of Crimea, the legal context for Scottish independence and the UK's exit from the European Union, and the United Nations Security Council's Resolution on Malaysia Airlines MH17.

Cases and Materials on the Law of the Sea

Cases and Other Materials on International Law

Cases and Materials on EU Private International Law

Cases and Materials on International Trade Law

Updated with an emphasis on current issues, this classic casebook emphasizes developments in international law, with expertly edited cases and problems for class discussion. Cases and Materials on International Law offers a treatment of the subject for introductory and advanced classes and detailed readings and reference materials for those who wish to pursue topics in depth. The fourth edition enriches every chapter with new information on institutions contributing to the sources and enforcement of international law, including the World Trade Organization, the International Criminal Tribunals for Yugoslavia and Rwanda, the prospective International Criminal Court, and organizations in the fields of law of the sea and arms control. International criminal law now has a chapter of its own, and the casebook gives expanded treatment to human rights, environmental law, and economic law.

Cases and Materials on International Business Transactions

Text, Cases and Materials

An Australian Supplement